

SDRCC's new Case Summaries

Arbitration made simple - SDRCC offers user-friendly Case Summaries

The Sport Dispute Resolution Centre of Canada (SDRCC) is expanding its menu of practical resource materials by adding user-friendly Case Summaries to its Web site at www.adrsportred.ca.

SDRCC's arbitration rulings "which can be 20 pages or longer " have been condensed and re-written in everyday language.

Each summary lays out the basic facts of the case, explains the arguments from each side, and offers a synopsis of the arbitrator's decision. The final component features important lessons learned for the sport community.

Case Summaries for the dozens of SDRCC rulings are now available in PDF format on the site. From the Home Page, click on the large Jurisprudence Database icon to access the search function or to see a complete list of rulings.

For each ruling, you'll have three options:

1. Brief
2. Full Text
3. Case Summary

Opened officially on April 1st, 2004, the SDRCC is, first and foremost, a Resource Centre, offering materials that focus on dispute prevention and conflict resolution. Where disputes cannot be prevented, the Centre offers world class mediation and arbitration services that help to avoid time-consuming and costly litigation.

One of only a few such programs worldwide, the SDRCC is a not-for-profit corporation created by federal legislation and funded by Sport Canada.
