

Anne BENEDETTI

Anne Benedetti played with the Canadian National Lacrosse Program, and is a lawyer at Goodmans LLP practicing administrative and municipal law.

She has degrees from Queen's University (B.A.H. English and History, B.ED), the University of Western Ontario (LLB) and Oxford University (Masters of Law, BCL).

During her time at Queen's University, Anne led the Queen's team to two championships not only as a player but also as head coach; she continued to both play and head coach at the University of Western Ontario while pursuing her law degree. Anne has been acknowledged both for her activities on the field and in the classroom at both Queen's and Western, and was named Athlete of the Year by both the Queen's Journal and Western Gazette in her respective graduating years. Upon the completion of her law degree at Western, she was named a Chatelaine Woman of Influence Leader of Tomorrow.

While studying at Oxford, Anne was awarded an Oxford full blue and was a member of the British University Sports Association National Lacrosse Team.

Anne was a member of the Canadian National Lacrosse Team from 1999 to 2005, which placed fourth at the Women's Lacrosse World Cup in 2001 in England.

Anne has worked and volunteered in the area of Sport Dispute Resolution, first serving as the Chair of the Inter-University Athletic Council at Queen's University and then as a volunteer at the Sport Solution Clinic at Western Law. During her legal education, she was chosen to be the clerk for the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) at the Commonwealth Games in Manchester, England in 2002. She has also published and written articles in the area of international sport dispute resolution.
