

John F. Reid

John Reid is married to Rita and they have two adult children, Jennifer and Sean who is married to Victoria. John is first and foremost a peace officer, Superintendent by rank, with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

He is the Officer in Charge of Adjudications Directorate responsible for the formal discipline hearings within the Force. His 35 year career has a diverse background from complex investigations in white collar crime and internal affairs to managing a national witness protection program to his early years in general duties on detachment. He is a graduate of Osgoode Hall Law School.

John is an avid fan of hockey and has a love for the game. Involved since a very young child he played to Junior levels. As an adult he has coached and managed teams from minor hockey to Junior. He is also an active referee for the past 43 years, working Junior hockey when he was younger and continues today on the ice with house league. He is experienced in all organizational aspects of the game and more specifically with officiating programs. John presently holds the position of Referee-In-Chief of the Ottawa District Minor Hockey Association and is the Director of Supervisions for the Ottawa District Branch while still holding several other executive positions in minor hockey.
