Shaul Gordon is a lawyer practicing in aviation law and has represented Canada internationally in the sport of fencing for over a decade. He received his law degree and LL.M. in Air and Space Law from McGill University. He is currently an associate at YYZlaw, where his practice focuses primarily on aviation transactions, financing, and regulatory matters.

Shaul represented Canada at the Tokyo 2020 and Paris 2024 Olympic Games. As a student-athlete at the University of Pennsylvania, he was a three-time All-American and All-Ivy athlete.

Seeking to combine his passions for sport and law, Shaul currently serves as Chair of the Canadian Fencing Federation Athletes' Council and as the Athlete Representative on the Canadian Fencing Federation Board of Directors. In these roles, he works to represent the athlete perspective and contribute to the continued growth and development of fencing in Canada.

In his spare time, Shaul enjoys sailing, Muay Thai, and hiking the mountain trails around North Vancouver.
